HSE Communications Think before you print

Protect the environment, save the planet Save trees, save paper

Every day, unfortunately people hit the print button without really considering why. Often, it's because we're used to seeing things on paper, we have some irrational desire to hoard information. More than half of all pages printed are never used.

- Many of us think that printing is an easy, direct and simple task, not considering the complications and environmental impacts such as deforestation, production of paper and its transportation and ink waste.
- It's recommended to review document before printing, to ensure minimum mistakes or none are there before printing
- Use double-side instead of one-side- avoid colour printing - avoid printing emails
